* Header describes this as the “Second Quarter (Q2)”; the statements are for the three months ended 31 March 2026. Note on currency: unless otherwise stated, all amounts are expressed in thousands of dollars ($ '000). The Group's presentation currency changed from United States dollars (US$) to Singapore dollars (S$) with effect from the current quarter; comparative figures have not been restated.

Note 4 — Gain on Disposal of Subsidiary

During the quarter, the Group completed the disposal of its wholly-owned subsidiary Pacific Cold Chain Pte Ltd for cash consideration of $absent. The disposal gave rise to a one-off gain of $490.0 million recognised in profit or loss. As a result, profit before tax of $512.0 million exceeded revenue of $340.0 million for the quarter. Excluding the one-off gain, profit before tax would have been $22.0 million.

Management Discussion & Analysis

Underlying revenue declined 6.1% year on year and 4.2% sequentially amid soft freight rates across the trans-Pacific corridor. Excluding the one-off disposal gain, the Group's operating performance remained under pressure, with gross margin compressing to 14.4% (Q1 FY2025 comparative period: 15.7%). The headline profit before tax of $512.0 million is not indicative of underlying performance and should be read together with note 4.

The change in presentation currency from US$ to S$ during the quarter, without restatement of comparatives, means period-on-period comparisons should be treated with caution. The Company will restate comparative figures in its next interim report.

Outlook

The Board expects trading conditions to remain challenging through the remainder of FY2026. Excluding non-recurring items, management anticipates broadly flat underlying profitability. The proceeds from the disposal of Pacific Cold Chain will be used to reduce net gearing.
